W. Hayer ↓

Dear Joshua, I am enclosing an obituary you may not have seen. It seems to mark the passing away of an era, or at least the very beginning of it! It certainly was an exciting time, that left also some irritation. Unquestionably Bill was very intelligent, and had one advantage on us: he did not know any genetics.

I have learnt that there was one legal suit in California on the property of cell lines, and it was resolved that they do not belong to the owner of the cells.

I am recovering from erythema multiforme, probably ~~because~~ thanks to Acyclovir. We will be in Italy 3 months (March-May).

All the best!

Luca
